CLUB BOSS: I'LL FIGHT COUNCIL IN HIGH COURT

A WEALTHY property developer and club owner has launched a High Court battle against Harlow Council, accusing it of racial discrimination and violating his human rights.

Mo Ghadami, whose portfolio includes a number of properties in Harlow town centre, claims he had to close down five businesses after being victimised and harassed by council officials between the late 1980s and 2005.

According to a writ issued at the High Court in London and made publicly available on Friday, Mr Ghadami's problems began after he won a high-profile court battle to overturn the council's decision to grant planning consent for the expansion of the Harvey Centre back in 2004.

He alleges that subsequent harassment from the council forced him to close five businesses – Bar Vegas, Para-dise Lodge, pole dancing club PoleKatz, Mo's Amusement Arcade and minicab firm Able Cars.

He further claims the council broke the terms of a legally binding agreement drawn up in December 2001 which precluded him from dealing with anyone other than the authority's chief executive.

According to the writ, the deal was signed after the businessman accused a council official of disclosing personal information to lawyers acting on behalf of an insurance company looking into two burglaries at Mo's Amusement Arcade in 2000 and 2001, resulting in the insurers refusing to pay a claim of £250,000.

The council argues the agreement is no longer valid, but Mr Ghadami is now seeking a declaration that the deal remains binding. He is also seeking damages for the breach of the agreement as well as misfeasance [the improper performance of a lawful act] and malfeasance [a wrongful or illegal act, especially by a public official], racial discrimination, breach of his human rights and negligent misstatement. Speaking to the Star this week, a defiant Mr Ghadami said: "I have given Harlow Council so many opportunities to sit down and talk to me about my grievances with the way I have been treated over the years, but no-one has had the good grace to take me up on my offer. "It would seem the council hoped I would go away and leave them in peace. I now feel I have been left with no alternative but to launch legal proceedings. "It may seem like a fairly drastic course of action but they only have themselves to blame. You only have to look at the way the town is being mismanaged to understand the sort of people they are." A spokesman for the council said it would "vigorously defend itself" against the action but declined to comment further.

Relive '70s at charity disco

DISCO divas are being urged to don their leg warmers and get into the groove for a 1970s and '80s fundraiser taking place next Sunday (May 29) in aid of a Harlow children's charity.

The fun-filled fancy dress party has been organised by the Annabelle Rose Foundation, a charity set up to help support the families of those suffering from Spinal Muscular Atrophy.

Charity founder Charlotte Burfitt said: "Bank holiday nights are always a winner. With no work the next day and a night of fun with your friends, what more could you ask for?"

"It is sure to be a really great night and we just hope as many people as possible will come along to help us raise much needed funds for our hard work."

The disco will be held at The Link in Parsloe Road from 7pm-midnight. Tickets are £7 per person.

For more information or to buy tickets visit the website at www.annabelle-rosefoundation.co.uk or call 0300 8000 762.

Referee abandons cup final after punch-up on the pitch

SPECTATORS watched in horror as a football match between two Harlow sides descended into an ugly punch-up on Sunday.

The League Cup Final between Parsloe Athletic and Sapphire FC had to be abandoned after an on-pitch brawl erupted late in the second half.

The match was being played at Bishop's Stortford FC.

It is understood that a number of fans invaded the pitch to join in the fracas, which resulted in two players being seriously injured.

Both teams now face the possibility of being fined by the Essex FA, while the Harlow and District Football League is currently conducting its own investigation into the incident.

Police were called to the ground at 4.30pm but no-one was arrested.

One disgusted spectator, who had taken his young son to watch the game, told the Star: "We had taken the kids there after our own cup final. We didn't expect it to turn into a huge punch-up.

"It was not a pretty sight and really quite frightening."

HDFL chairman Paul Groves described the incident as "disgraceful".

"It's a real shame to end the season with such a display of disrespect and violence," he said. "I can assure the footballing community that the Harlow and District Football League is carrying out its own investigation of the incident, while the Essex FA has charged a number of players and both clubs in relation to the incidents."

He added: "This season we have held 10 cup finals, over 400 league matches and over 50 cup games in which we have had no disorder of this level. This was a very disappointing and distressing incident for all present on Sunday.

"We have some 1,500 members playing on Sunday mornings who do so in a manner that you would expect them to do so and without the need to behave in such an appalling way."

Restored memorial to the 'fallen forty'

A RESTORED memorial displaying the names of 40 soldiers who lost their lives in the First World War has been rededicated in a moving ceremony in Old Harlow.

The stone tablet in Park Hill was first commissioned by the Mulberry Tree Lodge of the Oddfellows Friendly Society in 1918 to commemorate the sacrifice of 40 members who were killed during the 1914-18 conflict.

More than 90 years later, current members of The Loyal Ware Lodge - which now incorporates The Mulberry Tree Lodge - agreed to have the memorial restored after it had deteriorated to such an extent that only a few names could be read.

Secretary Alan Hillier said: "We decided that to coincide with the restoration of the memorial we would also have a rededication ceremony.

"We even tried to find relatives of the people mentioned on the plaque as they all would have come from Harlow and its surrounding areas. However, we weren't very successful."

He added: "We still had over 50 people come to the ceremony though and it turned out to be a really nice, moving occasion. We were very pleased."

A PERFORMING arts charity based in Harlow has been given a £25,000 grant to bring the story of the town's history to the stage.

Razed Roof, an inclusive drama group for people with and without disabilities and learning difficulties, received the money from the Heritage Lottery Fund's Young Roots programme, set up to finance young people's heritage projects.

The InForm project will see the group, which is based at The Playhouse, working with researchers to build a picture of how Harlow grew from modest beginnings to become a sprawling new town in the years following the Second World War.

According to artistic director Annette Lidster, the idea for the show was developed as group members recalled their youth.

"It is a fascinating new venture for us," she said. "We hope to have lots of fun in unearthing some of the treasures and possibly secrets of Harlow and will share our discoveries using a range of performance skills to enable all members of the group to make a really positive contribution."

The main focus of the production will be the impact of the town's development on older residents, with the youngsters acting out first-hand accounts of moving to the area in the post-war years.

Robyn Llewellyn, head of Heritage Lottery Fund East of England, said: "This project is a great example of what Young Roots grants are all about.

"Young people will be involved in making the project happen and have the chance to engage meaningfully with their local surroundings and neighbours."

Harlow MP Robert Halfon congratulated the group on securing their grant.

"Razed Roof is one of the most incredible groups from in and around Harlow and I have been privileged to watch many of their activities on a number of occasions," he said.

"I hope that this grant enables them to do even more good work as they are so vital to the community and I wish them every possible success.

"I would also like to thank the Heritage Lottery Fund for realising this group's need for support."

Teenager in court on rape charges

A TEENAGER has been charged with two counts of rape after a woman was sexually assaulted in Harlow last Tuesday.

The 17-year-old, who cannot be named for legal reasons, appeared at Chelmsford Magistrates Court on Thursday and was remanded in custody pending a hearing at Harlow Youth Court on June 3.

The victim, a woman in her 40s, was attacked as she was walking along an alleyway linking the Finchmoor estate to Southern Way.

Cash crisis threatening future of drama group

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A DRAMA group which has provided support to hundreds of youngsters has made a desperate plea for financial support to stop it from closing.

The Livewire Trust, which was started 10 years ago, helps to guide young people with problems through their teenage years and trains them to go into schools to run interactive workshops about current social issues.

But after their main sources of funding were cut, the Harlow-based group is struggling to continue its work.

Creative director Sam Ashwood said: "The Livewire group is much more than just a simple theatre group. We are a charity that helps many young people in many different ways.

"A lot of our members are youngsters that have dropped out of school or have been referred to us from behaviour units. Through our work we help them to re-build confidence and give them some direction in their lives.

"We also find they make great ambassadors to go into schools and discuss current social issues that they themselves have had personal experience with."

Currently Livewire has around 65 members aged from 13-19, but Sam says that unless the group can find more financial support quickly then they will have to close at the end of the summer.

"It would be so sad if we had to stop the good work we do because of a money shortfall," said Sam. "I am very proud of everything we have achieved so far and only hope that we can sustain it for the future.

"I would ask any local business who wants to make a real difference in the community to help support us in our hour of need."

To offer financial support to the Livewire Trust, contact Sam on 07974 241647. For more information about the group, visit www.thelivewiretrust.com.

Sainsbury's seeks a charity partner

SUPERMARKET shoppers have been invited to nominate a local charity to receive a year's worth of funding and support.

As part of the relaunch of Sainsbury's Local Charity scheme, the company's Harlow branch is asking customers to pop into the store before May 25 and put forward the names of local groups they think should be the store's new charity partner.

A shortlist of nominations will be drawn up and the top three charities will be invited into the supermarket where staff will decide which one they want to work with during the next 12 months.

Store manager Stewart Alderman said: "This is a great opportunity for our customers to give a local charity that's close to their hearts the chance to receive fundraising and other support from Sainsbury's Harlow for a whole year.

"We now need our customers to come in and tell us who we should consider supporting."

25th anniversary of carers' group

A LOCAL charity providing much-needed respite care is celebrating 25 years of serving the community.

Crossroads Care Epping, which helps carers to "recharge their caring batteries" first began running their merged schemes across Harlow, Epping and Redbridge in May 1986.

They have since helped to give hundreds of people caring for a loved one a break from their responsibilities.

Sheila Fellows, one of the group's first carer support workers, said one of the most important parts of her job was being able to empathise with carers.

"You don't always have all the answers or always have to give advice, but you do always need to listen," she said.

To celebrate its silver anniversary, the team is hoping to expand both their HomeShare Scheme, which encourages people with different caring needs to help each other, and their Young Carers Project.

For more information on Crossroads Care, visit www.crossroads.org.uk.

Glamour and glitz at salons' special night

TWO Harlow salons have helped to raise almost £3,500 for a children's charity after hosting a special hair and fashion show.

Almost 500 people turned up to Seen nightclub in The Rows for the glitzy evening organised by Avant Garde in the Rows, DG & Co in Market House and two other salons from Bishops Stortford.

They were treated to a catwalk show from the salons' stylists and pupils from Passmore School, as well as live music, a charity auction and a disco.

The evening was held in aid of the Annabelle Rose Foundation which provides help and support to families of children with Spinal Muscular Atrophy.

Managing co-ordinator Kim Parrish said: "The whole night was absolutely fantastic. Everyone worked really hard and made us very proud.

"We would like to thank all of our clients and everyone who came and supported us. We couldn't have raised so much money without them and are absolutely thrilled by how well everything went." Charlotte Burfitt, founder of the Annabelle Rose Foundation, added: "On behalf of the Annabelle Rose Foundation I would like to thank everybody for all their support. All the money raised will go towards helping other families affected by spinal muscular atrophy."

The total raised on the evening will be boosted by the proceeds from a raffle which will be drawn at the end of this month. Tickets can still be purchased from either of the salons and cost £5 a strip.

BRIAN VERNON

'Pumpkin Man' Brian dies at the age of 77

COMMITTED charity worker Brian Vernon, who raised thousands of pounds for worthy causes, has died at the age of 77.

Mr Vernon, of Potter Street, Harlow, passed away last Wednesday after battling stomach cancer.

A long-time fundraiser for St Clare Hospice and Quest for Cancer, he spent the last few days of his life being cared for by staff at the hospice in Hastingwood.

He was known throughout the town for his wacky fundraising stunts which included dyeing his hair red and wearing it in a Mohican style, walking on hot coals and parachuting out of an aeroplane.

A prizewinning horticulturalist, he was also widely known as the 'Pumpkin Man' for his knack of being able to grow the vegetable to competition sizes.

When not doing his charity work, he was happiest working on his allotment. A regular judge at shows and open garden competitions, he was secretary of the southern region of the National Vegetable Society up until his death.

Born in Hull, Mr Vernon moved to Harlow in the early 1960s and soon became heavily involved with the town's football community, playing for Rectory Rovers and Great Parndon FC.

He continued his involvement with the game as a referee and also held posts in the Harlow Recreational, Harlow District and Bishop's Stortford leagues.

He is survived by his companion Rita, children Hazel, Ian and Diane and his grandchildren.

His funeral will take place next Wednesday (May 25) at Parndon Wood Crematorium at 2pm, with a procession starting from Wright's Court, Potter Street (opposite the Red Lion) at 1.30pm.

His family has asked for donations in his memory to be made to St Clare Hospice.

Nathan talks himself into 'Speak Out' final

A HARLOW student has scooped top honours in the area final of a nationwide public speaking challenge.

Mark Hall School pupil Nathan Carver (15), of Fold Croft, faced competition from youngsters across West Essex.

He won a trophy and an iPod and will now take part in the final of the Jack Petchey Foundation's Speak Out Challenge after his victory in Debden on Thursday.

Nathan's speech, entitled Taking Things For Granted, compared the luxurious lifestyles of the affluent with the plight of the homeless and those living in poverty.

Prizes were presented

by Epping Forest District Council chairwoman Anne Grieg, who said of the contestants: "They were all passionate, had excellent delivery and oozing confidence."

"The future is secure with these young people as they go on to the next level of their careers."

Charity's anger over 'unfair' rent demand

THE trustees of a Harlow charity which closed when its funding was axed have been threatened with legal action by Harlow Council over disputed rent demands.

The Cornerstone Trust, which provided formal advocacy and training courses for people with learning difficulties, was forced to vacate its headquarters in The Stow in March after its funding dried up.

But the three trustees have since been billed for a further five months of rent and associated service charges, with the council threatening to take them to court if they refuse to pay up.

The authority insists the charity

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

signed a new lease on the council-owned building tying them to the premises until September this year, but this week one of the trustees, John Lowry, told the Star that no formal deal had ever been agreed.

"These demands for payment are completely unfair," he said. "We never actually signed a new lease with the council and believed we were on a monthly rolling contract."

"We gave them ample notice that we were being forced to close and have even offered to pay a further month's rent and service charges on the building, but the council don't seem willing to compromise."

He added: "Cornerstone provided so much help and support to vulnerable members of the Harlow community, but because our funding dried up we were sadly unable to afford to keep the charity going."

"For the council to now pursue us aggressively for money we don't even believe we owe is disappointing to say the least."

It is the second time the charity has locked horns with the council over rent. In September last year it criticised the authority for raising its lease demands and demanding back-dated rent, although both parties eventually reached a compromise.

This week Simon Carter, chairman of the council's resources policy working party, said negotiations were ongoing and the authority was confident an "acceptable" agreement would be reached soon.

"We consider ourselves to be fair and equitable landlord in the way we treat charities and we appreciate that small organisations and charities sometimes find themselves in difficulties," he added.

"As Mr Lowry is aware, negotiations between the council and the charity's solicitors are taking place and it would be inappropriate to comment further."

Town centre library to close on two days a week as spending cuts bite

HARLOW'S libraries may have been spared the axe but all five will have their opening hours slashed from the beginning of July as part of a cost-cutting drive by Essex County Council.

Although facilities in the town centre, Old Harlow, Great Parndon, Tye Green and Mark Hall will stay open, the total opening hours will be reduced by 34 hours a week.

The central library in The High, which is currently open seven days a week, has been earmarked for biggest reduction of 13 hours which means it will now be closed on both Wednesdays and Sundays.

The hours for the library at Mark Hall have been cut by 11, at Tye Green by five, Old Harlow by three and Great Parndon by two.

The revised opening hours, full details of which can be picked up from the libraries or viewed online on the Essex County Council website, reflect the results of a countywide consultation to which more than 27,000 people responded.

County councillor Jeremy Lucas, cabinet member for environment and culture, said he was pleased the authority had been able to "honour the will" of those who took part.

He added: "We are still keen to work with other public sector organisations or community groups who may have suggestions for funding or in-kind support which may enable us to keep libraries open for longer and will continue to welcome any suggestions of this type."

Tory peer in the dock for fiddling expenses

THE former leader of Essex County Council accused of fiddling his Parliamentary expenses was on a plane to India when he claimed for overnight accommodation in London, a court heard this week.

Lord Hanningfield, who faces six charges of false accounting, made false claims for accommodation expenses incurred after performing his duties in the House of Lords between March 2006 and April 2009, Chelmsford Crown Court was told on Monday.

Prosecutor Clare Montgomery said the Conservative peer, who denies all the charges, would claim for hotel costs but travel back to his home near Chelmsford.

She told the court: "We will call evidence to establish that each one of Lord Hanningfield's claims for night subsistence was false.

"He never stayed overnight in London at any stage during the period in the charges. On the vast majority of nights he went home.

"On the few occasions he did not, he was not in London. He was variously on an airplane bound for India or at hotels outside London, all paid for by someone else, mainly Essex County Council."

Miss Montgomery suggested

By COURT REPORTER
star@hertssexnews.co.uk

that, on some occasions the peer, who is being tried under his real name of Paul White, would make false claims for travelling expenses to mask dishonest claims for overnight subsistence.

She told jurors: "You will need to consider whether the false travel claims were deliberately designed by Lord Hanningfield to hide the fact that he returned home every night, normally by car."

On Tuesday the court heard the defendant had told detectives the allegations against him were an attempt by Colchester MP Bob Russell to "discredit him" following a row over planned school closures.

He told detectives that he and the Liberal Democrat MP had also argued over proposals to turn one Colchester school into an academy.

In a statement to police he said: "I have never knowingly made a representation which is untrue in terms of allowances and never have I made gain for myself. I do not believe that I have made any false claims within the allowance scheme."

The trial continues.

Dance group to perform at Leisurezone

TALENTED young dance students will push it To The Limit next month in an explosive new show at Harlow Leisurezone.

Makin' Steps, based at Potter Street Community Centre, will be the first dance group to make use of the multi-million pound sports complex's capacity to stage live entertainment as well as sporting events when it brings its dazzling new production to the venue on from June 2-4.

To The Limit will be packed full of song and dance routines in various styles including hip hop, street, ballet, tap, modern and salsa, all backed by the group's own band and singers.

Tutor Scott Simpson said: "This year we're really stepping it up a gear with a purpose-built stage and a lighting and sound rig that wouldn't look out of place at a large concert.

"We've got nearly 150 pupils taking part as well as a guest performance from Burnt Mill Performing Arts School. Everyone has been rehearsing since January to make sure this is a show to remember!"

Tickets can be purchased from the box office on (01279) 304937 or online at www.makin-steps.co.uk.

Stylish victory for hair student Jenna

A HARLOW College student who only plucked up the courage to pursue her dream of becoming a professional hairdresser last year has already made the cut by winning a competition.

Jenna Swanton (26) started her hairdressing training late because she did not think she was good enough. But the talented mum-of-one, currently studying for her NVQ level two in hairdressing beat 18 other finalists in the Chris & Sons Student of the Year Competition supported by BaByliss PRO.

"The theme was Cultures of the World so I decided to give my model a Moulin Rouge style and had to do everything - the hair, make-up and dress," she said.

"It was hard work and the other competitors were really good, so I really didn't think I had a chance of winning."

Jenna, who used to live in Church Lane, Harlow, before moving to Chelmsford, plans to start her NVQ level three at the college next year and said her success in the competition had inspired big ambitions for the future.

"I want to be massive," she said. "I want to do catwalks, magazines, photo shoots the lot and I am really excited for what's ahead."

Who says romance has to be old fashioned? With the resurgence of classic styles and traditional shapes, comes the use of modern techniques and bang on-trend fabrics. The look is warm, elegant and just a little bit frivolous.

Take Fishpools' dreamy Montagu sofa in soft grey tones with mustard highlights. Or the lovely Bloomsbury loveseat, in luscious shades of baby soft velvet. (You'll have to feel it to believe it.) For the ultimate in bedroom romance, go for the Oxburgh with its calming white painted finish, giving your room an understated opulence.

HARLOW Town Park was transformed into a pink wonderland on Sunday when thousands of people turned up for Cancer Research UK's Race for Life.

Women, men, teenagers, grandparents, young children and even pets dressed in their best pink accessories to support the town's biggest fundraising event, with more than 2,600 women running, walking or jogging the 5k or 10k routes.

First to complete the 10k race was Kay Spooner who crossed the line in a time of 49 minutes. Isobel Moss retained her 5k title when she finished in just over 21 minutes.

Organisers hope the event, which was once again supported by the Star, will have raised more than £300,000 which will be used to fund the charity's life-saving research.

Event manager Lucy Hynes said: "Race for Life in Harlow was a fantastic event and we are so very grateful to everyone who took part or supported our participants, as well as the wonderful volunteers who helped make it happen.

"Now the big day is over we are asking our supporters to take one last step – by returning the money they have raised so that we can go on funding much-needed research.

"Every day around 75 people are diagnosed with cancer in the east of England. But the good news is that research funded through Race for Life is helping local men, women and children to survive the disease."

She added: "Despite improvements in treatment we still have a long way to go. One in four people in the UK will die from cancer. With the help of people in Harlow we want to change that."

By Star reporter Vicky Lane, who took part in Sunday's Race for Life

FOLLOWING the river of pink flowing into Harlow Town Park, it didn't take long to locate the start of the Cancer Research UK Race for Life. For with seemingly no pink accessory in the town left unworn, hot pink feather boas, magenta leg warmers, fuchsia hair ribbons and salmon-coloured cowboy hats dominated the skyline as more than 2,500 women gathered in defiance of a disease that causes so much heartbreak.

Joyfully, some were there as survivors and, commendably, some as fighters still undergoing their own battles against the disease. Yet the majority of women and youngsters were like me, ready to run, walk or jog in memory of the many men, women and children who have lost their lives to cancer.

Despite the sad undertone of the event, the atmosphere among the crowds was jubilant. Weather conditions were optimal - not too hot, not too cold - and as the 10k runners were helped on our way by the deafening cheers from our equally pinked-up supporters, any doubts about completing the course were replaced with resolve.

At every painful corner we were heartened by people sitting outside their homes shouting out their support, while at every agonising hill (who knew there were so many in Harlow?) the emotive messages written on pink T-shirted backs reminded us of why we were there and helped to push us on.

Finally, I spotted the wonderful sight of the finish line and became attuned to the thunderous applause of the crowds once more. With a final burst it was all over - in one hour exactly - and I was left feeling elated to have played my part in this celebration of life. For ultimately the Race for Life is a celebration. A celebration of those whose lives were cut short by cancer, a celebration for the survivors and a celebration of the research progress that is helping more and more to beat the disease.

And one day, with the continued help of everyone who supports events like the Race for Life, it will hopefully be a celebration of the treatment that will make everyone a winner.

vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk

THIS week we're flying high after receiving this aerial photograph of what is believed to be Harlow New Town in the early 1950s.

The picture was sent in by Simon Blackwell from Sussex and is one of many taken by his father, Ted Blackwell, while carrying out his national service in the RAF.

Simon, whose father passed away 10 years ago at the age of 68, said he has spent the past two years trying to identify the photographs. After a lot of enquiries, he thinks he has finally traced them back to Harlow.

Simon explained: "Though Dad had just written 'North London housing estate' on the back of the picture, I am confident from modern Google images that that the photographs are of Ladyshot and Momples Road when the area was being built.

"I believe the area being developed in the foreground to be a school or college now. The other open area behind the flats and houses bordered by trees appear to be what is now playing fields."

Ted, who was aged 20 at the time, had been a flight sergeant during his national service and was trained as a gunner in the air turret.

"He wasn't a photographer," said Simon, "but I think they told Dad to take photographs as he obviously didn't need to be shooting his machine gun at that post-war time.

"According to his log book the photo was taken on the afternoon of June 10, 1953 from an Avro Lincoln flying back to RAF Waddington. The squad had been conducting a cross country weather 'recce' of the south east for the Canberra flypast which I assume was to mark either the anniversary of the Coronation or the Queen's Birthday, or for a RAF review at Odiham a short while later."

● Do you agree with Simon's conclusion? If you think you know what it photograph shows, write to Nostalgia, 6 West Gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or email vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

CAN YOU HELP? Milestones

WE'RE sending readers of Nostalgia on a sort of treasure hunt around Harlow this week to see if they can locate any more of the mysterious milestones.

This latest quest was initiated after local historian Ron Bill, of Upper Park, brought in this picture of one of the milestones located in London Road, Old Harlow.

The milestone, which Ron said he presumes must have been there for at least a century, states that the spot marks six miles to Epping, 22 miles to London and six miles to Bishops Stortford.

"I know there is another milestone in Potter Street but wondered if anyone knows of any more around the town or what the history is behind the stones," he said.

"Who put them there and when? I would be very interested to find out."

If you think you can help to unravel the mystery of the milestones, write to Nostalgia, 6 West gate, Harlow, CM20 1JW or send an email to vicky.lane@hertsessexnews.co.uk.

There are fears for the safety of a new curate and his wife moving to Harlow next month following a spate of attacks on a church house. The property in Peldon Road near St Mary's Church has been the target of attacks with bricks, stones and airgun pellets. One of its out-buildings was set on fire. Police said they are doing all they can to solve the problem.

A Harlow fireman needed emergency surgery on a gashed hand after injuring himself fighting a blaze in Great Hallingbury. The firefighter was taken to the Princess Alexandra Hospital for the treatment and kept in overnight.

Harlow printworkers support committee is stepping up its battle against Rupert Murdoch's newspaper empire. An emergency committee meeting approved a three-pronged plan to boycott all newspapers printed at Wapping, conduct more demonstrations in the town and for committee members to join other protests against News International. The actions come following the sacking without compensation of over 5,000 people from the Wapping plant.

A major crackdown on drug users is to be spearheaded from Harlow following the opening of a regional drugs wing in the town. A squad of 12 detectives headed by an inspector will lead major drug investigations throughout the whole of the eastern region.

So where are all these 'new' jobs?

SIR, Some months back the Star reported that 80 jobs were being created as the Comet distribution centre in Harlow. The leader of Harlow Council described this news as "a welcome boost for our town".

Well my wife, who is currently unemployed, and some of her friends in the same position have searched the Comet website for these so-called jobs, only to find nothing has been advertised. No recruitment agency, as far as she and her friends are aware, have advertised these vacancies.

Even Robert Halfon was quoted in your paper as saying it was a very encouraging development, but where are these jobs? Is this a cover-up by Comet to hide behind as they made many redundancies in the other centres?

My wife, like her many friends, cannot claim Jobseekers Allowance as their husbands and partners earn just over the threshold. Believe me, it hurts financially as all savings are gone and some have sold their homes or changed their mortgages to interest only just to try and survive.

Scroungers continue to milk the system while honest workers are penalised. To say 80 jobs are coming to Harlow raised the hopes of many, only for them to find nothing.

Money has no value in itself

SIR, I appealed for a rational discussion but instead I got a diatribe from Mike Audritt (Letters, April 14). Words like "drivel" and "claptrap" are not conducive to constructive debate.

First, neo-liberalism. This is recognised shorthand terminology for what has been the dominant economic theory and

Councillor's comments were a gross slur on our unique town

SIR, Following the assault by Jim Pailing and Councillor Tony Hall on what they perceive as my reactionary views regarding the development of Harlow (Letters, April 28), I have thought long and hard about a response.

I considered a long and detailed rebuttal of all their accusations and inaccuracies but decided that despite your editorial generosity, 1,400-plus words might be pushing my luck! So I'm relying on the lyrics of that splendid protest song of 1970 by Joni Mitchell – Big Yellow Taxi – to encapsulate what is happening here and now in Harlow. She wrote a number of great phrases such as: "Don't it always seem to go/That you don't know what you've got till it's gone/They paved paradise and put up a parking lot" and "They took all the trees/And put them in a tree museum/Then they charged the people/A dollar and a half just to see 'em."

It is difficult to do better than that, especially with such neat brevity.

I must comment on Cllr Hall's description of Harlow as he found it on his arrival. To describe this place as "one huge council estate" is a gross slur on everyone engaged in the design, construction and fantastic social infrastructure of this unique town.

Obviously they don't know what they've got and will not be satisfied until it's gone.

It is because of the views of people such as Messrs Pailing and Hall that Harlow Civic Society will continue to battle for measured growth for Harlow, whilst ensuring that the brilliant vision of Sir Frederick Gibberd and his talented team is not allowed to be subsumed beneath the concrete so eloquently observed by Joni Mitchell.

John Curry

practice in most countries since the Reagan/Thatcher era and, therefore, is exactly what I wrote – the current economic orthodoxy. It has been the basis of the International Monetary Fund and World Bank policies with respect to aid for developing countries.

Essentially, the theory is that governments should interfere as little as possible in the economy, leaving the market to solve all problems and promoting privatisation of services. This led to sub-prime mortgages, hedge funds, collateralized debt obligation and structured investment vehicles.

Under this theory it is not the duty of government to regulate banks, or at least to do so with a "light touch" as the Labour government did until 2007/8, and with the full support of the Tories. In fact I did criticise this policy at the time. But was Gordon Brown responsible for the collapse of Bear Stearns, Merrill Lynch, Goldman Sachs, Morgan Stanley and all the other US financial institutions which triggered a global financial crisis?

As for spending money we do not have, does Mr Audritt have, or has he had in the past, a mortgage or any other form of borrowing? That is spending money one does not have to make possible the acquisition of goods one cannot pay for out of current assets.

The country desperately needed investment in hospitals, schools, transport and many other things needed by a modern civilised society. In the current economic system, that required borrowing. Again, I was critical of some of the ways in which this was implemented but the need was certainly there.

True, this produces a deficit which has to be paid at some time but by historical standards it is not specially large. As a proportion of GDP it has been larger in most years since 1945. I repeat my original point: the rate of reducing the deficit is a political decision, not an economic one.

However, there is a more fundamental point. Money has no value in itself; it is an artificial creation which assists in the distribution of real wealth – goods and services which contribute to people's wellbeing. It should be the servant of the real economy, not its master.

There is so much more nonsense in Mr Audritt's tirade that it is difficult to know what to pick out. Most of it bears no relation to anything I wrote or implied.

I will, however, agree with him on one point. The UK should stop trying to be a world power engaging in illegal wars and squandering precious resources on the means of death and destruction such as Trident nuclear weapons.

Cruel jibes left me very upset

SIR, I was born and brought up in Harlow and had four children. Over the years I have struggled to lose weight.

I was coming to a point of thinking that I was doing really well, eating better and was feeling quite good about myself until I encountered four young women in The Stow area.

As I walked ahead of them, the comments such as 'look, there's your twin' and 'you must be joking, she's a right state' as well as their laughter made me want to curl up and cry.

Their comments were hurtful but I couldn't believe four adults – two with children in buggies – could have the audacity and boldness to be so openly insulting about someone they had never met or who had ever done anything to them.

Perhaps I am being naive in thinking that even if someone thought someone was a 'state' they would keep it to themselves. As it stands, I was severely affected by their comments but will soldier on for my own sake and self-esteem to be who I want to be.

Concern about common horses

SIR, I and many other people have contacted the RSPCA and other groups about the horses on Latton Common. They are always leashed with little room to move and basically look half dead.

I have seen some being kicked and generally they are unhappy. The groups that were contacted refused to act since they follow "Government guidelines" which are basically heartless authorisations.

I believe Harlow Council receives payment for the horses being placed on the land, so perhaps there can be a fence erected around the field to at least allow the horses room to move and be horses.

Great response to Star report

SIR, On behalf of the Partridge Care Centre I would like to thank the Star for reporting our appeal for garden furniture. We have received a lot of donations and the garden has been transformed.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank everyone who has given us items. We received a lovely table and chairs, ornaments, a swinging seat, a rabbit hutch and even a garden shed to put all the things in.

I would also like to thank Keith Alderbarber, who gave us five brand new table and chair sets which look amazing, and Wilkinson's, who have given us a new table and chairs. A fantastic response and one that has been very much appreciated by residents and staff. Thank you again.

Debbie Bell, Partridge Care Centre,
Partridge Road, Harlow

Does MP back homes protest?

SIR, Your coverage of the Golden Way protest march highlights the 'backing' of the campaign by MP Robert Halfon (Star, May 12).

If one reads his comments carefully one finds that, in spite of his concerns at the loss of the green wedges, he never actually says he is against the development.

Until the recent march he kept a very low profile, not attending any of the many public meetings on the subject or saying anything at all. It will be interesting to see his position after the planning committee backs the proposed development, which is the likely outcome in spite of our efforts.

Now he and two dissenters from the council majority are receiving press coverage for a campaign they have had nothing to do with until this high-profile event. As a member of Harlow Civic Society and a campaigner against the development since it first raised its head in the seventies, I feel miffed.

Barbara Burge
Seeleys, Harlow

A celebration enjoyed by all

SIR, Would you kindly allow me to extend the thanks of the Bishopsfield, Charters Cross and Gibson Court Residents' Association to all the people and local businesses who donated funds and gifts towards our Royal wedding fun afternoon.

A great time was had by all and £650 raised which will be put towards six local charities.

Arthur Hutchinson
Gibson Court, Harlow

No real loss in benefit switch

SIR, I am at a loss to understand why Kerry O'Brien is so upset to be transferred from Incapacity Benefit to Jobseekers Allowance (Star, May 12). It will mean only a small reduction in the amount of cash she will receive.

Why does she say she will not be able to pay her rent? She must be receiving housing benefit and council tax benefits, so what has changed?

I think the real reason is she will now have to go to the Jobcentre every fortnight rather than be left alone year in, year out with benefits being paid without having to prove she is looking for work.

One of the problems is that for some unknown reason Incapacity Benefit is worth more than Jobseekers Allowance and once you are receiving it you are left alone. That's the way it always was until now.

Money spent on census could be better used - MP

HARLOW MP Robert Halfon has questioned the need for a national census, arguing it is a waste of taxpayers' money.

The Conservative backbencher was among a group of MPs who quizzed the UK Statistics Authority on the benefits of the census during a Commons Public Administration Select Committee.

Speaking afterwards, Mr Halfon said: "It is somewhat authoritarian to compel every householder in the UK to fill it out, to make them divulge their personal details and to threaten us with fines or even imprisonment if they don't comply," he said.

"Moreover it is wrong to make veiled threats, as certain adverts did, that if the census is not filled out areas of the country might not get their public spending allocation. This is patently not the case."

The estimated cost of this year's census is £500m, money which Mr Halfon said could have been better spent on vital services.

"The Government said this census will probably be the last," he added. "If that is the case, why was it necessary to have one this time around?"

"I filled in my census because I have to obey the law but I felt uncomfortable about divulging so many details to the machinery of the state."

A CAT owner whose pet was shot with an air rifle is warning other people to be vigilant.

When Pat Allen (54), of Tynley Croft, Harlow, found a lump on three-year-old Smokey after she had been out of sorts for a number of days, she thought it was an abscess and took her to the vets.

But during the examination the vet found the cause of Smokey's condition was an airgun pellet lodged deep in her side which had caused a nasty infection and required immediate surgery.

Pat, who has lived in the same house for 30 years, said: "I was shocked; I wouldn't have expected it in this area."

and drain the wound, is now on the road to recovery but Pat said she is lucky to still be alive.

"The vet said that the pellet had just missed her liver which would have killed her," she said. "Had we not discovered the lump until later the infection may have spread and made her too ill to save."

She added: "It is very clear from the place of Smokey's injury that she was targeted, which is appalling."

"I wonder how anyone could be cruel enough to shoot directly at an animal, especially one that is obviously someone's pet. It makes me wary of letting her out now in case it happens again."

PC Rob Hance, who confirmed police were investigating the incident, said: "Cruelty to animals is not acceptable and if this cat was shot with an air rifle then the person responsible has committed a cruel and heartless act."

"If anyone has any information about this incident then I would ask them to contact us. Neighbourhood policing officers will also be patrolling the area, so if you know anything about this please approach them."

Anyone with information can contact Harlow police on 0300 333 4444.

Cash-strapped council saves £246,000 in energy costs

GREEN technology has helped Harlow Council save almost a quarter of a million pounds – £246,000 – on its energy bills during the past 12 months.

The council has been working closely with The Carbon Trust to reduce energy consumption at the Civic Centre by nine per cent – the equivalent of the amount needed to make 13 million cups of tea.

This has included the installation of voltage optimisation boxes and 'smart' air handling units, while staff have been encouraged to minimise the use of air conditioning and adapt their driving techniques to save on fuel.

The council is now aiming to build on its achievement by reducing its carbon dioxide emissions by 25 per cent over the next five years and rolling out the installation of energy-saving equipment to The Playhouse theatre and Latton Bush Centre.

Tony Hall, chairman of the council's environment policy working group, said: "The progress we have made is encouraging. The equipment we have installed is working well and the staff have made a big effort to help reduce energy use."

"We've got a big challenge ahead to reduce our energy use even more sharply, but working together with The Carbon Trust I'm confident we're heading in the right direction."

WIN Tickets to LEGOLAND for a ride on Atlantis Submarine

OCEAN adventurers are wanted for the world's first LEGO submarine ride which has just surfaced at LEGOLAND Windsor.

Join forces with LEGO characters Captain Ace Speedman and Professor Samantha Rhodes on their aquatic mission to the bottom of the sea and come face to face with sharks, pull faces at the clown fish or wonder at the graceful rays and myriad of colourful shoaling fish as you venture deep in your search for the ancient ruins of Atlantis.

Once on board the yellow LEGO-themed submarines, explorers will be given Atlantis Sea Voyage mission information as they prepare for close encounters with thousands of amazing sea creatures.

Through special viewing windows, the hunt is on to spot the impressive King Neptune figure, mesmerising mermaids and divers, just some of almost 100 individually crafted Lego pieces.

And get set to get a little wet with interactive touch pools full of cleaner shrimps and starfish – all fantastic fishy fun for all the family.

To be in with a chance of winning a set of four tickets (for adults and children) answer the simple question in the competition entry form and return it to: LEGOLAND Competition, Harlow Star, PO Box 268, Cambridge

CB24 6HF by Wednesday, May 25, 2011.

Or you can enter via our dedicated competition link at www.harlowstar.co.uk. Be sure to enter LEGOLAND in the competition name line or your entry will be discounted.

Join us for a fantastic fundraiser

WITH just one month to go before the St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk, the fundraising team have been busy behind the scenes as they prepare for this year's event.

This week they began the task of packing the goody bags which are given to everyone taking part in the walk and continued to process the steady stream of registration forms that arrive at the office every day.

Almost 1,000 people have already signed up for the 10km walk - which takes place in Harlow on Saturday, June 18 - and organisers have their fingers crossed that total will rise to 1,500 before the deadline for entries closes on Friday, June 10.

Event organiser Tracy Stratford, said: "The Midnight Walk has attracted nearly 1,000 sign-ups but we are still urging people to sign up as this year's event needs to be bigger and better than ever."

"The Midnight Walk has raised a staggering £290,000 in the past three years and our aim is to make it to £400,000 this year. This is why we're looking to attract 1,500 people, so if you haven't yet signed up, are free on the night and want to have some fun whilst supporting a local charity then register today."

One of those who has already done so is Beekie Street (22) from Sheering. Her mum Heather was cared for at the hospice in Hastingwood in the weeks before her death.

"Mum was at St Clare for about two-and-a-half-weeks," said Beekie. "She was really nervous when she was transferred from Addenbrookes Hospital to the hospice."

"She hated being in hospital although the staff were lovely. We knew St Clare was a great place but I guess it's just out of your comfort zone when you know someone close needs to go there."

"Very quickly mum and the family settled in and she loved having a laugh and a joke with the nurses. They made it the best possible time for us all. The nurses encouraged her to get up and even get in a lovely bath, which she hadn't been able to do for three years.

"Mum stopped saying she didn't want to be in the hospice very quickly. The staff prepared us all and gave just as much comfort to me as they did mum. I wanted to know everything and that's what they did. I was able to stay with her for as long as I wanted and dad lived at the hospice during that time."

"The night mum passed away I was there and the nurses were wonderful explaining what would happen and helping me prepare. Afterwards I had some counselling so the care didn't stop when mum passed away."

"It's now a few months since mum passed away and I wanted to do something to give a little back to St Clare Hospice. I've signed up for the Midnight Walk and I'm busy collecting as much as I can from my family, friends and colleagues."

The walk - which is supported by the Star - will start from the car park outside ASDA in The Water Gardens at 10.30pm. The entry fee is £15 per person and everyone taking part will receive a goody bag and an 'I painted the town pink' T-shirt.

The evening begins with entertainment from around 8pm with music and games, and shortly before the start of the walk there will be a Zumba-style warm-up session.

To find out more about the walk or to register online, log on to St Clare's website at www.stclarehospice.org.uk. Alternatively you can call the hospice events team on (01279) 773750 to request an entry form.

Anyone who would like to join the walk but feels unable to do can still get involved. The organisers need volunteers to help on the night, so if you would like to offer your services contact the fundraising team on (01279) 773750.

The boy stuck with the power to attract metal

A SIX-year-old schoolboy has attracted the attention of the world's media after astounding family and friends with his magnetic abilities.

Ivan Stoilkovic's can stick metallic objects to his body, a feat that has caused quite a stir in his native Croatia.

He can reportedly attract objects including spoons, mobile phones and even frying pans to his torso.

His family, who live in a small rural village near Koprivnica, claim he can carry up to 25kg of metal stuck to his body at a time.

He showed off his special talent to journalists by taking off his shirt and sticking cutlery, pans and even dumbbells to his chest and back.

But his unique talents do not end there. His family also claim Ivan has healing hands which cured his grandfather's stomach pains and helped a neighbour who hurt his leg in a tractor accident.

His granddad, Ivo Stoilkovic, said that when Ivan laid his hands on his stomach they became very hot and the pain drifted away.

Ivan is also said to be much stronger than other children his age, regularly carrying bags of cement weighing as much as 23 kilograms.

Fielding laughs in cricket club farce

WARRING couples, jealous lovers and arson – just a typical Sunday afternoon down at the local cricket club for the protagonists of a hilarious farce set to hit Playhouse audiences for six next week.

Award-winning theatre group Global Productions make their hotly-anticipated return to the theatre on Thursday for ball-by-ball coverage of Richard Harris's hit cricketing comedy Outside Edge.

Obsessive club captain Roger desperately tries to get his team together ahead of a crunch match with the feared British Railways Maintenance Division Yeading East Cricket XI, but his problems pale in comparison with those of his philandering team members, their wives, ex-wives, lovers and girlfriends.

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

As the oblivious spectators gather on the village green on a lazy Sunday afternoon, the players are more concerned with off-pitch battles against their better halves as cars are set ablaze, lovers get stuck in the toilets and marriages begin to crumble.

Featuring Global stalwarts Richard Hollis – recently named Best Comedy Actor at Thurrock Festival – Keith Cummings, Elaine Elliott, Susan Macpherson and recently-retired Harlow councillor Chris Millington, the production has all the right ingredients to bowl audiences a giggle.

Director Michael Phillips told the Star: "We're really looking forward to putting on Outside Edge; it's a cracking comedy with enduring appeal.

"Although the play is set at a cricket club, the laughs come from the complex relationships between the main characters and their wives, girlfriends and lovers. You'll enjoy the humour even if you don't like cricket!

"The set is looking fantastic and rehearsals are coming along very nicely. We've got a great cast and they're really enjoying preparing for opening night."

Outside Edge opens at The Playhouse next Thursday (May 26) and runs for three nights. Performances begin at 7.30pm and tickets cost £14.50 (£12.50 concessions, £10.50 Playhouse supporters) from the box office on (01279) 431945 or online at www.playhouseharlow.com.

Players shine in a life or death dilemma

REVIEW

Whose Life Is It Anyway?
Moot House Players, Moot Hall

EVEN more relevant now than when it was first performed, Moot House Players' latest production had audience members debating furiously during the interval.

Whose Life Is It Anyway? asks tough questions and offers no easy answers. Who should decide if a life is worth living – the medical experts who are committed to preserving life at all cost, or the paralysed patient who looks to the future with dread?

Is a wish to die a symptom of insanity as Dr Emerson believes, or a rational choice as Claire Harrison maintains? And what about the finances? She is, after all, occupying a costly critical care bed.

An accident has left Claire paralysed from the neck down. Claire Quiley captured the bitterness of an intelligent, witty woman who is determined to hold on to her anger, the only thing in her life she can control. Brian Clark, who was for a number of years a member of Moot House Players, wrote the play for television in 1972. Since then it has been an award-winning stage play and a successful film. MHP are the first amateur drama group to present this updated version of the work, and they made the most of the opportunity with a production that crackled with tension.

The moral dilemmas of the play are all the more real because the characters are rounded and believable. Ros Barron's Sister Anderson is efficient and dutiful, but understanding and affection lie beneath her uniform. Dr Emerson, played by Michael Rees, cracks bad-taste jokes with his patient and respects her intellect even while he opposes her wishes.

As well as some black hospital humour there is also a hint of hospital romance provided by the orderly, John (Matthew Truman), and trainee nurse Kay (Kerry Rowland).

Can life be a fate worse than death? In her summing up the judge, played by Jenny Southwell, quotes recent real-life cases before giving her decision.

Judging by the conversations overheard during the interval, these cases evoke strong feelings. When Claire asks for "the same compassion that would be used to put an injured animal out of its misery", it's impossible not to be moved.

This is a compassionate play. The characters, although flawed, struggle to do the right thing. No easy answers indeed, but some fine performances and an outstanding script made this a memorable production.

A new exhibition of stone and wood carvings also opens at the gallery on Saturday and will run until June 11, while would-be sculptors can learn more about the craft at the first of three free lunchtime sculpture lectures on Tuesday at 12.45pm.

Depp struggles to keep his sinking ship afloat

certificate 12A, 2h17m

JOHNNY Depp's impressive resume is littered with oddball roles, from the heartbreaking lead in Edward Scissorhands and iconic B-movie director Ed Wood to a creepily childlike Willy Wonka and the maddest Hatter ever to grace Alice's Wonderland. Yet of all these eye-catching roles, he is probably best known as salty seadog Jack Sparrow in the Pirates Of The Caribbean films.

Certainly, it was the first role to earn him a long overdue Oscar nomination as Best Actor.

Orlando Bloom and Keira Knightley may have sailed off into the sunset for this fourth instalment but Depp hoists the mainsail once again as the most fey and quixotic pirate to sail the seven seas, embarking on an action-packed adventure directed by Rob Marshall.

Alas, if the third chapter of the series – At World's End – was a waterlogged bore, On Stranger Tides is moored in similar shallows, almost capsizing during an uneventful middle section that should have been edited judiciously to take the running time below two hours.

The introduction of 3D, purely for financial rather than any obvious artistic reasons, doesn't help the film either, making scenes seem darker, including a night-time attack on the pirates by a school of mermaids that is a whirl of digitally rendered gloom.

This time around Jack (Depp) joins forces with Barbossa (Geoffrey Rush) to locate the Fountain Of Youth, one of the world's last undiscovered treasures.

The quest becomes infinitely more perilous when Jack is forced aboard the Queen Anne's Revenge captained by legendary pirate Blackbeard (Ian McShane), who is also seeking the Fountain with the aid of his sexy daughter Angelica (Penelope Cruz).

Using all of his guile, Jack must somehow outwit Blackbeard and Angelica and reach the fountain before his rivals.

En route, he crosses paths with rotund King George II (Richard Griffiths) and a hunky priest (Sam Claflin) whose attraction to one of the mermaids (Astrid Berges-Frisbey) tests his faith.

Pirates Of The Caribbean: On Stranger Tides starts off so promisingly with a fast-paced extended sequence in London, which sees Jack escaping from the king's men by riding on the roofs of moving horse-drawn carriages.

But once the film takes to the water, the plot springs leaks while simmering screen chemistry between Cruz and Depp surprisingly never catches light. Indeed, there are more sparks between Claflin and his fishy femme.

McShane is a woefully ineffectual villain while Rush seems to be daydreaming of happier times on The King's Speech.

Depp is still funny and he delivers the droll one-liners with typical fervour but even his considerable talent cannot keep an entire blockbuster afloat and the film runs aground courtesy of Marshall's plodding direction and a lifeless script.

>>still on screen

Attack The Block Trainee nurse Sam (Jodie Whittaker) is mugged on her way home by wayward lads Moses (John Boyega), Pest (Alex Esmail), Dennis (Franz Drameh), Jerome (Leeon Jones) and Biggz (Simon Howard). The assault is thankfully cut short by a meteor shower and when the youths investigate they come face-to-snout with a creature from another world. The kids slay the snarling beastie and drag its lifeless, furry carcass to the top floor drug den run by Hi-Hatz (Jumayn Hunter) and his lay-about door man, Ron (Nick Frost). When a second downpour of meteors heralds more creatures, the lads gleefully grab weapons to attack the aliens which have descended on the unsuspecting south London council estate.

Thor In the realm of Asgard ruled by Odin (Anthony Hopkins) and his wife Frigga (Rene Russo), Thor (Chris Hemsworth) is an arrogant heir to the throne. He acts first and thinks later, endangering the lives of his trusty companions Volstagg (Ray Stevenson), Sif (Jaimie Alexander), Hogun (Tadanobu Asano) and Fandral (Joshua Dallas) by launching a suicidal attack on the Frost Giants led by the menacing Laufey (Colm Feore). Odin strips his son of his powers and his legendary war hammer, and dispatches him to Earth as punishment.

Insidious Josh Lambert (Patrick Wilson) and his wife Renai (Rose Byrne) move into a new house with sons Dalton (Ty Simpkins) and Foster (Andrew Astor). Late one night Dalton hears a strange sound in the attic and goes to investigate. He glimpses a shadow and lets out a blood-curdling scream. The next morning, Foster tries to wake his brother but the boy has slipped into a coma. Before long Renai senses something is terribly wrong in the home and Foster adds to Renai's discomfort when he whimpers about an intruder. So Josh's mother Lorraine (Barbara Hershey) invites her supernaturally gifted friend Elise Rainier (Lin Shaye) to survey the property.

Fast & Furious 5 Former detective Brian O'Conner (Paul Walker) and lover Mia Toretto (Jordana Brewster) spring her brother Dominic (Vin Diesel) from a prison bus and hide out in Rio with Dom's childhood friend, Vince (Matt Schulze). The fugitives are double-crossed by drug lord Reyes (Joaquin De Almeida) and they vow revenge by plotting to steal $100m of the corrupt businessman's ill-gotten gains.

Rio (3D) Blu (voiced by Jesse Eisenberg) is a domesticated blue macaw who is taken to Rio de Janeiro to mate with the only known female blue macaw, Jewel (Anne Hathaway). But soon after Blu meets Jewel the birds are kidnapped by greedy animal smugglers led by the nefarious Marcel (Carlos Ponce).

Hop Young rabbit EB runs away from Easter Island and heads for Hollywood to pursue his dreams of being a drummer in a rock 'n' roll band. Once there he finds an unexpected ally in eternal loser Fred O'Hare (James Marsden).

Your stars with Patrick Arundell
 to guide you through the week ahead

Aries Mar 21-Apr 20
 Your financial situation can take a big positive step forwards, but also the temptation to spend any new found rewards can increase too. So you'll need to juggle the desire to have or to hold. If you've been on a strict diet, temptation can creep in. Of course the trick will be everything in moderation. The thing is Aries, can you resist? Call now for your financial forecast in full...

Libra Sept 24-Oct 23
 This week sees a massive change in the heavens, but one which can be entirely positive when long term financial hopes and business aspirations can take a major step forwards. In the right situations you can show tremendous commitment and drive. There is probably not a lot of point thinking your way through this, just feel it and do it. Call your prediction line for more advice...

Taurus Apr 21-May 21
 There is nothing to hold you back now, you really are on a mission and the universe is there to support you. But you must have the confidence of your convictions. This may mean staying single minded, but if you can, it can power you to success. Solo? A mixture of sex appeal and charm can warm even the coolest of hearts towards you. Call for your love scope in full...

Scorpio Oct 24-Nov 22
 Hard work and honest chat on both sides, a tie that's struggled can be revived. Solo? This really is a special week, so don't rest on your laurels, get out and about as much as you possibly can. Why not ask out that delicious person you like so much? With the right words and approach, they will find it impossible to say no to you Scorpio. Call now for your love scope in full...

Gemini May 22-Jun 21
 If you're single, an intense attraction can start from now, but it may be low key, even secretive. If you have been in a tie, if things haven't worked out or don't now, you may need to get through a period of letting go. The good news is that better things beckon. However, if you find the need for seclusion, take it, and find your bearings. Call me now Gemini for your love scope in full...

Sagittarius Nov 23-Dec 21
 Do you know, it can be great fun getting in better shape and you can meet some new friends along the way. You may also socialize more with people from work, but it's probably best to keep money and friendships firmly apart for someone may let you down. A supermarket isle flirt can also catch your attention and help make your pulse race. Call for your love scope in full...

Cancer Jun 22-Jul 23
 There can be a surge in applications for the post of your friend. In fact, you might find it hard to get five minutes to yourself. Not that you'll be complaining much, because it can be great to be on the end of so much goodwill. Enjoy the plaudits and attention. The challenge can be in finding a way to fit in all the events you're invited to. Call your special prediction line for more news...

Capricorn Dec 22-Jan 20
 Life really opens up. Whilst you may think this is to do with the weather, and it can help, equally you can find yourself wanting to engage with people, join in and have fun more than for a very long time. Accept every invitation, and enjoy yourself. If you have children, their success and activities can also be heart-warming for you. Call your prediction line for more astral advice...

Leo Jul 24-Aug 23
 Even the most shy and retiring Leo has a special kind of aura, but yours can glow ever more brightly now, and so you must expect to be in the spotlight. If you are attending an interview, you can wow, as long as you don't expect to get everything on your own terms for Mars can have a tendency to make you over confident. Check this. Call now for more news and astral advice...

Aquarius Jan 21-Feb 19
 A home improvement scheme can now take shape, or you can beautify your garden. Your immediate environment becomes a lot more important to you and there can also be a happy family gathering. Being with those that truly matter can lift your heart. You may also decide to rent out a spare room, or start a small enterprise in your abode. Call for your in-depth forecast...

Virgo Aug 24-Sept 23
 If you can, take some time off this week. A change really can find yourself having lots of brilliant conversations, but even small changes to your routine can be beneficial. If you are journeying, this can be a week of fantastic experiences, which can really delight your senses. Learning a foreign language, attending a team. Flight footed sports like badminton can also appeal. Call now for more news and astral advice...

Pisces Feb 20-Mar 20
 Life steps up several gears and you can find yourself having lots of brilliant conversations, but also spinning from place to place. Your attention span is low, so the more mental stimulation you get, the better. Community or local matters engage you too. If you enjoy quizzes, join a team. Flight footed sports like badminton can also appeal. Call now for more news and astral advice...

Category Three-bedroom semi-detached

Additional Large corner plot, semi-circular conservatory, attached garage

Guide price £237,500

Agent Genesis Property Services, 3 High Street, Old Harlow. Telephone (01279) 422422

SITTING on a very large corner plot and with three good-size bedrooms, this attractive semi-detached property in Watersmeet, Harlow, offers spacious accommodation in a well-located family home.

From the entrance hall with its wooden flooring, a staircase leads to the first floor. There is also a door to the lounge/dining room which has a feature Georgian-style double glazed window to the front, wooden flooring and a central fireplace.

On the back of the lounge/diner is a stunning Georgian style, semi-circular conservatory with a door leading out to the garden. The conservatory also has wooden flooring and is double glazed.

The kitchen features a range of wall and base units with work surfaces, a single drainer sink unit, plumbing for a washing machine and dishwasher, built-in oven and four-ring hob with extractor. There is a window to the rear, a door to the garden and the floor is tiled.

Upstairs, one of the three bedrooms has a superb selection of full height sliding wardrobes along one wall. A double glazed window overlooks the back garden and there is a coved ceiling with spotlights.

Bedrooms two and three overlook the front of the property and there is a larger-than-usual family bathroom with a white suite and separate, fully tiled shower cubicle as well as a heated towel rail.

Outside, the large corner plot is laid mainly to lawn, enclosed on all boundaries and with two-tiered paved patio areas, a garden pond and timber garden shed. There is also an outside tap and side access via a gate, as well as a door into the single, attached garage.

Genesis Property Services has this property on its books and can arrange a viewing appointment for you on (01279)422422.

BUILT in 2003, this house in Silver Street, Stansted, has been thoughtfully designed to provide generous rooms in a sensible layout which will suit the modern family.

Laid out across three floors, there are three reception rooms, an impressive master bedroom suite with a dressing room and en-suite bath and shower room, and a further four double bedrooms.

The property is approached via electric gates, giving access to a small private, gated courtyard community and parking for at least four vehicles. There is also a detached double garage.

Call Mackay Property on (01279) 600567 to arrange a viewing.

£250,000 will buy you this

THIS stylish, semi-detached house at Tatton Street in Newhall, Harlow, comes with a realistic price tag and when you see what's on offer you'll be inclined to agree.

There are three bedrooms, a ground floor cloakroom, en-suite shower room as well as a family bathroom and a fabulous sun balcony.

Outside there is an attractive garden which has a wall running along two sides. There is a paved patio and decking area as well as allocated parking.

Call Intercounty's Harlow office on (01279) 639666 for full details.

Tracey Waples
Property Editor

IF I had a pound for every time I was asked who was the best of the local estate agents, I'd be writing this from my pad in Monaco, keeping a close eye on my property portfolio and opining on the benefits of multi-home ownership.

As yet no-one has offered to pay me for the advice and although I might have my preferences, my opinions are based upon what I would have thought was the same criteria as everyone else – personal experience with a dash of recommendation from friends or family.

But apparently not everyone subscribes to this theory. According to consumer champions Which?, when selling our homes most of us rely on two main factors when we instruct an estate agent. It comes down to those charging the lowest commission rate or those offering the highest valuation.

Although the cost involved is important, surely not to the point of excluding all other factors? Whether you're selling a rambling country house or a studio apartment, there are outstanding estate agents who live and breathe property and there are those for whom the client is maybe not so important.

A great deal of work can go into selling a property that isn't necessarily apparent. An agent might be able to sell your property without public marketing just by identifying the right buyer on their books.

Choosing an estate agent is not the easiest task but if you do it properly it will make a huge difference to the smooth running of your house selling process.

As always, Homes Now is a great place to start. Take a look at the homes available here this week and see which agents are specialising in properties like yours.

Local Property Comment

Alan Howick
01279 401902

Well here we go!

This weekend celebrates probably the biggest ever launch of apartments being available for sale in the history of the Harlow market place!

I should know, I've been here since black & white TV.

Joseph Rank House, now known as JRS, is releasing 66 out of over 130 one and two bedroom flats in this major land mark building.

It's the biggest event for years and we are very proud to be appointed as the sole selling agents for Luminus Homes, a major player in this type of development.

Our sales office opens on Saturday at 10am until 5pm and is open all weekends as well as Mondays, Thursdays & Fridays.

It's a perfect setting for youngsters buying their first home or investors for enlarging their property portfolios.

Come along and have a look, everyone is welcome!

SLK – the next generation

By Iain Dooley

WITH BMW and Mercedes, buyers seeking a compact, premium-level roadster have been well catered for in recent years.

The latter has historically approached the market from the comfort end of the scale, with BMW only recently choosing to tone down a previously more overtly sporting proposition.

The SLK has done a sterling job for Mercedes. When it first launched in 1996 the car debuted a folding metal roof, offering owners the best of both worlds – tin-top refinement and security when you wanted it and open air convenience when it took your fancy.

By the second generation the car boasted sharper handling to please those seeking a sportier premium compact roadster experience. Now, with its third generation SLK, Mercedes has further refined the driving experience and added a few welcome extra bits of technology.

Style-wise, the car offers buyers two choices. The basic SLK shape remains intact, albeit a little sharper and better defined than previously. Opting for the 'Sport' model results in the addition of a tastefully subtle but visually appealing AMG-

FACTfile

Mercedes-Benz SLK 200 BlueEfficiency

on the road

Engine:	1.8-litre petrol unit developing 184bhp
Transmission:	6-speed manual as standard driving rear wheels
Performance:	Top speed 149mph / 0-62mph in 7.3 secs
Economy:	41.5mpg
CO ₂ Rating:	158g/km

branded bodykit and wheels plus a more focused sports suspension set-up.

Even in the world of sports cars it's hard to escape talk of cutting fuel consumption and emissions. With the inclusion of an improved engine range, this SLK follows other recent Mercedes products in delivering greater savings but, impressively, not at the expense of outright performance.

The SLK line-up consists of a turbo four-cylinder in 184 and 204 horsepower guise in SLK 200 and 250 trim respectively. There's also a six-cylinder unit boasting 306 horsepower. Four-pot models come with a six-speed manual gearbox as standard with the 350 getting a seven-speed auto, optional on the other cars.

For those watching their pennies, the SLK 200 returns an impressive 43.5mpg in auto trim (41.5mpg manual) and CO₂ emissions are 151 and 158g/km respectively. The 250 variant isn't far behind, while the 350 ducks under 40mpg and posts a creditable 167g/km CO₂ figure.

There's even an engine stop-start function for good measure plus an eco driving mode that softens the throttle and auto gearbox response.

As you can see, there's no longer a downside to downsizing. And on the road the 200 is a keen and willing companion. Even in non-Sport guise the car feels poised on challenging, twisty roads. The manual gearshift is slick and accurate, while the car's steering is direct and weights up in a predictable manner.

Sport models take this a step further, but thankfully there's no real compromise in ride quality. You can switch between suspension and (where fitted) auto gearbox modes and the car's tuned ride and 18-inch AMG wheels help, not hinder, the experience.

With each step up in engine output the experience takes another positive leap forward, with the 350 predictably offering the most thrills.

However, in a testament to the rounded nature of the 200, it's a car-engine combination you dismiss at your peril.

No modern Mercedes would be complete without a raft of safety kit and this third-gen SLK doesn't disappoint. Inheriting technology from more expensive cars such as the S-Class and CLS, the usual stability control systems have been enhanced with the (sometimes optional) inclusion of auto braking, lane departure warning, speed road sign detection and auto dipping headlights.

On the fun side there's a new infotainment system offering internet access, an active wind deflector plus changes to the car's trademark folding metal roof. The basic version remains, offering coupe-like refinement and security when raised. There's now the option of a glass panoramic roof plus a new 'Magic Sky Control' branded alternative. Fancy name aside, occupants can switch electronically between a light and dark mode, thanks to the clever technology in the glass.

There's little doubt that, with this third-generation SLK, Mercedes has hit the sweet spot when it comes to compact, premium convertibles. The car's styling strikes the right balance between elegance and a hint of performance, while mechanically it's economical, enjoyable and refined in equal measure.

Factor in the improved safety and comfort technology – not forgetting the car's trademark roof – and it's likely that prospective customers will need little persuasion to sign on the dotted line.

But if that isn't enough for some, the promise of a diesel version just around the corner should open up the market to a whole new buyer profile.

ASX- The new crossover from Mitsubishi Just the right size to...

Big enough for a horde of excitable kids, yet small enough to cope with rush hour, the new ASX has been designed for real people with real lives. At home on city streets or open country roads, the higher driving position, class-leading interior space and assured handling have been intelligently packaged to create an agile and versatile family car. And the low CO₂ engines, Auto Stop & Go, energy efficient tyres and advanced alternator control will reduce the size of your carbon footprint, saving you money to spend on living. We call this intelligent Motion.

Scrap

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Media Sales Consultant

Herts & Essex Newspapers has gained an excellent reputation for delivering quality news coverage and advertising that produces real results for our highly valued customers.

We are now looking to recruit a Media Sales Consultant in Hertford.

This would best suit someone with previous sales experience, although applications from outgoing, confident individuals who are well organised, professional and keen to develop their sales skills would be welcome.

Full and ongoing training will be provided, but you will need to be focused on delivering high standards of customer service and representing our business with people at all levels.

We pride ourselves on recruiting and developing the best people and offer a competitive salary, company car plus generous bonus structure. (realistic OTE £20k including bonus)

We offer 25 days holiday per year, on the job support and training and career development programme within one of the country's leading media businesses.

For an application pack please contact Nicole Want - P.A. to the Managing Director - via nicole.want@hertsessexnews.co.uk

It is the company's policy to welcome applications from any individual regardless of ethnic origin, gender, disability, religious belief, sexual orientation or age. All applications will be considered on merit.

Herts & Essex Newspapers Ltd is publisher of the area's leading newspapers, and is part of Iliffe News & Media East. Key opportunity with a leading media company

Herts & Essex Newspapers Ltd is publisher of the area's leading newspapers, and is part of Iliffe News & Media East. Our titles include The Hertfordshire Mercury Series and Bishop's Stortford Observer Series as well as a wide range of free weekly newspapers such as the Harlow Star and North Herts Advertiser Series. We also publish magazines and a suite of websites across Hertfordshire, Bedfordshire and Essex.

DEPUTY EDITOR Herts & Essex Observer

Are you the person we're looking for to play a leading role on our established community newspaper?

As a result of an internal promotion, the weekly, paid-for Herts and Essex Observer series, covering east Herts and north-west Essex, is seeking an accomplished journalist to take on the position of Deputy Editor.

The successful candidate will be a highly-skilled all-rounder, with the drive, commitment and desire to ensure that we remain the number one news provider in print and online for our readers and web users.

He or she will ideally have both newsdesk and production skills, plenty of ideas, great passion and energy, and the ability to work under pressure. They will be expected to get fully involved in the areas we serve.

Benefits: • Competitive salary • 5 weeks annual holiday • Following a probationary period there is an option to join a contributory pension scheme and subsidised health cash plan • Childcare voucher scheme

For an application pack, please contact Nicole Want, Cambridge Newspapers, Winship Road, Milton, Cambridge, CB24 6PP or email nicole.want@cambridgenews.co.uk

Closing date for completed applications is May 23, 2011.

It is the company policy to welcome applications from any individual regardless of ethnic origin, gender, disability, religious belief, sexual orientation or age. All applications will be considered on merit.

Are you leaving school/college or looking for a change in career?
Would you like to become a star in our Company?

If you are interested in a career in construction and have or expect to obtain 5 GCSE's then instead of going to University why not earn while you learn and gain an impressive qualification and career along the way. We are seeking to recruit a number of candidates for our training scheme.

Our 'CareerSTART' scheme offers career training in a variety of disciplines including; Estimator, Quantity Surveyor, Buyer, Architectural/Engineering Technician, Quality Control Inspector and H, S & E Inspector. The scheme consists of on the job training with one day per week studying at college to achieve initially, a National Diploma in Construction (2 yrs) followed by a Higher Diploma Certificate in Construction (2 further years).

Applicants for Quality Control and H,S & E must be 18+, hold a full driving licence, be willing to travel and have transport available to them. Applicants for all other positions must be 16+. You must have achieved or be expected to achieve 5 GCSE's (grade C or above) including Maths and English.

All positions benefit from an excellent remuneration package including, pension, health and life cover, together with access to a free in-house gym and pleasant working conditions.

If YOU have the dedication to succeed in the world of construction and are not afraid to commit yourself to training and study, then e-mail or phone for an information pack and application form by 2nd June 2011

Essex County Council
Boars Head Road, Matching/North Weald (Temporary Prohibition of Traffic) Order 2011

Notice is hereby given that the Essex County Council has made the above Order under Section 14(1) of the Road Traffic Regulation Act 1984.

Effect of the order: To temporarily close that length of Boars Head Road, in the Parish of Matching/North Weald Bassett in the District of Epping Forest, from its junction with Hobbs Cross Road to its junction with Foster Street, a distance of approximately 710 metres.

The closure is scheduled to commence between 23 May 2011 and 11 June for 10 days, and between the 1 and 31 August 2011 for 1 day between the hours of 9.30am to 3.30pm or where appropriate signs are showing and weather permitting.

The closure is required for the safety of the public and workforce whilst carriageway patching and surfacing works are undertaken. The alternative route will be via Foster Street - Harlow Common Road - Potter Street - A414 - B183 Gilden Way - Churchgate Street - Hobbs Cross Road and vice versa.

Access for emergency service vehicles and pedestrians will be maintained at all times during the closure.

The Order will come into effect on 23 May 2011 and may continue in force for 18 months or until the works have been completed, whichever is the earlier.
Dated: 19 May 2011.

Yim Kong, Assistant Director for Highways, County Hall, Chelmsford.

To advertise your articles for sale for the price of just a phone call or text, just follow these two simple steps...

1 Before calling us, write down all that you want your advertisement to say. There is a minimum of 12 words per advert, but you can have as many classified adverts as you need. Remember, strictly one item per phone call and the item must be priced at £250 or less. Any items received that do not carry a price will not be published.

2 Now call us on 0905 624 2025
LINES OPEN 24 HOURS PER DAY SEVEN DAYS PER WEEK.
This service lasts approximately two minutes, plus the length of your message. Calls charged at £1.02 per minute plus network extras; calls from mobile will cost considerably more. Service provided J-Media (UK) Ltd.

or text 87070

Start your text with HEN then your advert to a maximum of 20 words. You do not need to add your phone number unless it is different to the mobile used to text the advert.
Example: HEN (space) G. Plan two piece suite, two seater sofa and armchair, super condition £99.
Charged at £1.50 per text plus normal network charges.
Only one item per text.

If you have any queries relating to advertisements placed via this service please call our helpline...

West Essex & East Herts Youth Football U-11 League Cup final

MARK Hall's U-11 A side ended their tenure in the West Essex & East Herts Youth League on a high note – by lifting more silverware on Sunday at Ware FC. The side are joining the Mid Herts Rural Minor League at the U-12 age group next term.

Mark Hall won the West Essex & East Herts Youth U-11 League Cup with a 6-0 victory against Sumners Cobras.

Scorers included Sonny Hellmers-Cleaverly (3), Tommy Wickenden and James Sinclair.

It has been a successful transition to 11-a-side football from seven-a-side for Mark Hall, who completed the League and Cup double for the second successive year.

Hall did not lose a single game in the league and had a very impressive goal difference of 177, scoring 181 goals and only conceding four!

The team were also Colchester & District Youth League Open Cup finalists, losing 1-0 to Lexden Saints. Mark Hall fought off several teams from the Colchester area who were all very successful within their leagues to get to the final.

The Harlow side were also semi-finalists at the Easter and Spring Festival of Football tournament in Bognor Regis, West Sussex. This is one of the biggest and most prestigious youth football tournaments in the UK.

Hall lost on sudden death penalties to Byron Red Star (Romford) in the last four.

West Essex & East Herts Youth Football U-10 League Cup final

A FANTASTIC piece of skill from Casey Ajayi clinched a sixth trophy for Harlow Town Youth FC U-10's this season.

Five trophies had been won by the side before they faced Sumners Youth in the West Essex & East Herts Youth League Cup final at Ware FC on Sunday.

Both keepers were on top of their game and there were no goals until 10 minutes before the end when a long-range free-kick by Casey flew into the top right corner.

Back in September, the team – managed by ex-Hawks favourite Craig Charles – claimed their first piece of silverware for the season, beating New Hall 2-1 in the Charity Shield.

This was just the start of an amazing campaign.

The team have now completed the cup and league double in

Duo turn game as side lift silverware

AN unbroken sixth-wicket stand of 124 between Charlie Coleman and Scott Alderson turned the tables as Harlow Town beat Harlow in the annual President's Cup match at Ash Tree Field.

Town looked down and out on 87-5 in response to Harlow's 210-5 from 40 overs in Sunday's clash.

At this stage, the hosts needed eight an over, but Coleman turned the tide for the hosts with a man-of-the-match performance of 76 not out.

Alderson chipped in with 42 not out as Town won with nine balls to spare.

This gave them a second win in two days after they had beaten Epping Foresters in the Herts & Essex League on Saturday.

Earlier, Harlow made a steady start with Luke Monger making 45.

Harlow 210-5, Harlow Tn 211-5

Harlow Town won by five wickets

President's Cup final

Town looked to have the scoring rate under control until a late scoring burst by Brian Kulasekera (52) and Conner Melaugh (29) ensured Town faced a scoring rate of more than five an over.

Chasing the tough target, Town made a slow start and lost opening batsman Shiraz Ali for a duck to Monger's bowling and Patrick Yates (18) to Nicky Baxter (2-29).

When Vic Goddard was dismissed for just 2, Town were on the ropes at 87-5 before Coleman and Alderson showed their mettle and dashed Harlow's hopes.

Pretley ready for Wembley date

PROFESSIONAL mixed martial arts fighter Jeremy Pretley has his biggest bout to date when he takes on the undefeated Costas

Duru on the SyFy channel at Wembley Arena on May 21. Pretley (26), a former member of Harlow Jujitsu Club, has won four and lost two fights at lightweight so far. His opponent Duru (26), from Tottenham, has won all his five fights.

Foresters cut down as Town snatch victory

A FURTHER test of Harlow Town's credentials as division one title candidates will come when they host joint leaders Theydon Bois this Saturday.

Town still share pole position after an amazing turnaround saw Harlow Town snatch a one-run victory from the jaws of defeat at Epping Foresters.

Town scored 191-8 and looked dead and buried when the hosts reached 174-4 in reply, in last Saturday's clash. Then Ashley Alderson (4 for 36) removed the in-form batsman A.

French (53). This was followed by a run out as the wheels came off the Epping innings.

At one point only two runs were required with three wickets remaining. But those three wickets fell in one over.

The final wicket fell in a run out as the batsmen panicked looking for a quick single.

Earlier, Town's innings had been built round a fine 94 by Ramaya Upadhyay. Harlow Town II (251-5; Jason Gladwin 86, Darryl Pettengel 69) recorded their first win of the season in division two with a 17-run victory over Takeley (234-6).

Other results:- div three: Potter St (156) lost to Chadwell Heath (158-3) by 7 wickets. Div five: Harlow Tn III (234) lost to Theydon Bois II (239-6) by five runs.

Div seven: Harlow Tn IV (99-9) lost to Ilford Catholics (100-4) by six wickets.

Bill Bruty Cup final

HEATH Rovers came from behind to beat North Weald and retain the Bill Bruty Cup.

In winning the final at Bishop's Stortford Football Club, Rovers also overcame the loss of forward James Crane.

He sprained an ankle after 25 minutes in a collision with the Weald keeper and had to be taken to hospital for treatment.

Weald had been denied by a brilliant save from Rovers keeper Matt Ponter who kept out a point-blank shot.

However, he could do nothing as Weald took the lead on 35 minutes.

Rovers equalised on 52 minutes.

A Max Francis-Johnson corner set up Kyle Murray who fired home from the edge of the box.

Rovers then went ahead on 70 minutes when a 40-yard ball from substitute Andi Pearce found Phil Smith who fired home.

Smith rounded off the scoring on 80 minutes with a 20-yard shot.

Rovers right-back Scott Foster, ruled out by an ankle injury, said: "They dominated the first half but we came back well in the second half."

● NORTH Weald gained some comfort from this final loss by going on to lift the premier division title with a 3-2 home victory against rivals Alemite Athletic on Saturday.

Goals from Elliott Brown, Frank Major and Michael Fishenden secured the points in this title decider. In division one, Frontiers lost 1-3 at home to Alemite Athletic reserves.

Brass polishes off rivals in Ladies 5K Series opener

HOST runner Louise Brass held pride of place as she was the first winner of the three Harlow Running Club Ladies 5K Series.

The Harlow Running Club member was first home on the course which went through the Town Park in Harlow. Brass clocked 19 minutes and 51 seconds.

Brass was followed home by Fiona Tidswell (Saffron Walden Striders) in 20:17 and Helen Grant (Cambridge AC) in 20:56.

The first junior finisher was Isobel Moss, from Harlow, who was 6th in running

21:48, while Dionne Jones, a Harlow Running Club member, was first veteran 40 finisher and 8th overall in 22:07.

The team prize was won by Harlow through their first three runners - Brass, Sharon Wright (5th; 21:43) and Paula Reynolds (7th; 22:01).

There were also personal best (PB) times for Harlow runners Claire Williams (13th, 23:47) and Wendy Bradford (26th; 27:24).

Bowen back with a bang

LUKE Bowen, left, continued his return from a horrific injury to be at the centre of the action in Rye House Rockets meeting at Hoddesdon on Sunday night, writes ANDREW FRANCZAK.

A sudden downpour led to the abandonment of Rockets' Knockout Cup first round tie with the score poised at 39-39.

Rockets lost the away leg 50-39 the following day to lose 89-78 on aggregate - and see their Knockout Cup hopes dashed for another year.

Saturday's result stood, but it was an unsatisfactory conclusion to a thrilling meeting with plenty of close racing and even closer finishes.

Central to the drama was Harlow's

Bowen, who produced a brilliant display just a fortnight after fears he had broken his back after a horror crash!

After featuring in a 5-1 alongside Jordan Frampton in the opening heat, the Harlow Flyer produced a simply magical race to drive past Steve Worrall on the opening lap - and then Claes Nedermark on the very last bend - to win Heat 6.

He led eventual winner Stuart Robson for three laps in Heat 8 and finished within half a wheel of Derek Sneddon in the dash for third place in Heat 10.

Rockets skipper Chris Neath dropped just one in three starts, while Ritchie Hawkins delivered plenty of excitement, and another race win, in his paid 7.

That tally matched the totals of Jordan Frampton and the departing Jason Doyle, while Ben Morley was the Rockets' sixth different race winner after tasting success in Heat 2.

It proved another luckless night for Tyson Nelson, however. The 18-year-old was on board a new bike, but a frustrating night saw him score just one solitary point and suffer two falls.

Rockets held a six-point advantage at two different stages, but never really looked like building a strong first leg lead, and were eventually reeled in by a Newcastle team led superbly by former Rye House star Robson, who was beaten by Frampton in Heat 10.

The Diamonds drew level with a 5-1 in Heat 13.

The rain then turned the track into a death trap and organisers had no choice but to abandon.

It was a battling effort from the Rockets at Newcastle on Sunday, which saw them storm back from a 10-point deficit to lead with just three races of the tie remaining.

Newcastle ended with a flattering 11-point winning margin.

Hawkins continued his recent surge to finish with a paid 9 total that could have been bettered but for a tumble in Heat 15, while skipper Neath was beaten only in his final ride and Bowen continued his terrific return from injury with seven points.

Team manager John Sampford said: "To come here, trail by 10 points and then fight back to lead with just three races remaining says a lot about the character of the team."

"Everyone got stuck in and tried hard. It's been a strong confidence booster for our clash with top of the league Somerset this Saturday (7pm start)."

Sprinter Sam targets Great Britain medal

By ALAN SCOTT
alan.scott@hertssexnews.co.uk

SPRINTER Sam Watts is already eyeing a medal at the European Junior Championships in Estonia this summer – after breaking through the Great Britain 100m qualifying time at the Essex County Championships last weekend.

The Harlow-born 19-year-old qualified for the Championships in Tallinn with a blistering, winning time of 10.52 seconds in the U-20 100m at Chelmsford on Saturday – and this distance is not even his preferred event!

The former Leventhorpe School student also won Sunday's 200m final at Chelmsford.

Considering the season barely started a month ago, he is clearly in hot form.

Looking ahead to Tallinn on July 21 – when he expects to compete in both the 100m and 200m – he beamed: "I definitely want a medal. I would like to win. If everything goes right. I want to be first in Europe."

He is now preparing to face the cream of British athletics when he competes in the Loughborough International meeting this weekend.

He is set to race alongside GB stars Marlon Devonish, Mark Lewis-Francis and Craig Pickering. Watts was told by UKA (UK

WATTS UP:

Inset, Marlon Devonish, who will race against the teenager this weekend at Loughborough (s)

Athletics) chiefs on Monday that he will race in the 200m and the 4x100m relay this weekend.

Watts raced in this meeting last year when he was fifth in the 200m in a time of 21.35s, just behind Great Britain sprinters Lewis-

Francis and Leon Baptiste.

He hopes to crack the 200m Euro Champs' qualifying time (21.25 seconds) at Loughborough. "I already ran that time last year," he said. "But I have to do it this year." "I want to run under 21 seconds.

I am capable of it. I would have had the 200m qualifying time but the wind has been in my face in every race [slowing him down]. The 100 has not," said Watts.

The Woodford Green with Essex Ladies Athletic Club star believes the training he has put in at the 60m distance on indoor tracks over the winter has paid dividends with his 100m running. "We have changed blocks. I am coming out [the blocks] quicker, with big powerful steps. I don't feel like I'm going fast but I've lengthened my stride," he said.

At Loughborough he will be in the Great Britain junior team which will compete against the GB senior team, as well as senior teams from England, Scotland and Wales. "I will be racing men [not juniors] basically," he added.

Despite some blustery conditions Watts completed a sprint win double in the U-20 age group at Chelmsford with some scintillating runs last weekend.

He won his 100m heat on Saturday in a personal best of 10.62s and later in the final improved again, impressively winning with another best of 10.52s, beating the Euro Junior Champs' qualifying time.

A club spokesman said: "That is the fastest time by a junior athlete in the UK this season, and well inside the qualifying mark of 10.60s for this season's European Junior Championships."

The following day, Watts returned for the 200m and despite a strong headwind on the bend comfortably won the title in 21.64s.

ings for U-15 boys.

Mark Hall student Canaan Solomon (12) added the U-13 boys 800m title to the 1,500m gold he won earlier this month in a time of 2:22. He won his heat in 2:33.

Twenty-year-old Loughborough student Markus Hunt had a comfortable win in the senior men's 400m in 49.17s, while Kirsty McIntosh retained her senior women's pole vault title (3.30m).

Eleanor Moss, (13), a Passmores School pupil, was 4th and gained a PB of 19.67m in the U-15 girls hammer.

Alex Hill (17), also from Harlow, came second in the U-20 400m in 60.2s, after winning her heat in 59.91s.

Daniel Yaxley (18), a Harlow College student, just missed out on third place in the last five metres to finish 4th in a

Harlow bowlers on top in second straight win

HARLOW'S bowlers were on fine form as they recorded their second league victory by 60 runs at Stanford-le-Hope on Saturday.

Harlow lost the toss and were asked to bat on a very difficult Stanford wicket.

Openers Rehman Ahmed and Luke Monger put on 55 in the exacting conditions before six wickets fell for just 15 runs as Harlow slipped to 70-6.

The lower order repaired the innings with partnerships of 46 between Nino Calvino and Nicky Baxter and 28 between Calvino and Andrew McGarry which took the score up to 156. Calvino scored an excellent 38.

Defending the low target proved no problem for Harlow's seam attack.

Fast bowler McGarry took a wicket in the first ball of the Stanford innings and Harlow never looked back.

McGarry took two more wickets in his opening spell, aided well by the economical Monger.

Heskett and Baxter then took a wicket apiece to leave Stanford reeling at 52-5.

McGarry returned to take his fourth wicket before Monger bowled the last two Stanford batsmen in consecutive balls to record a win in style and leave the hosts on 96 all out.

"Every seamer bowled really well, with McGarry yet again proving to good with the new ball," said captain Luke Heskett.

"On reflection the opening stand of 55 was really good, and Nino Calvino batted superbly. It was his innings that put us in a position to win the game."

Quartet triumph at Essex Champs

FOUR wins were claimed by Harlow athletes at the Essex County Championships at Chelmsford last weekend.

Perry Rowan (14), a Burnt Mill School student, cut 24 seconds off his 3km personal best (PB) with an excellent win in the U-15 boys race in 9 mins, 43 secs.

This puts him second in the UK rank-
